You always were around me

you always stand beside me

cause I still need you now

like I needed you then

It feels like this won't end

Cause I really know no other

I've really had no other lover

I will never ever let you go

When you showed up at my door who could imagine more cause you still look the way that you did that day after 20 years or more

Cause I really know no other

I've really had no other lover

I will never ever let you go

And while you stand beside me

You'll be the one that guides me

Cause when I take your hand and you take my hand

It feels like this won't end

cause I still need you now

like I needed you then

It feels like this can't end
